Confidently Advise Clients on Antitrust Enforcement & Regulatory Requirements

While the world economy is increasingly integrated, the enforcement of antitrust laws still varies significantly across different countries. At the same time, the nature of the global economy is changing at a fast pace, with antitrust laws constantly adapting to new market dynamics. Keeping your finger on the pulse is therefore crucial to understand, manage and mitigate antitrust risks across the globe.

With MLex's real-time intelligence and analysis on antitrust policy changes, cartel investigations and probes into dominant companies that abuse their market clout, you can keep track of significant developments that may impact your clients and their industries.

Our global team of antitrust specialists provide exclusive insight and analysis that explains how businesses will be impacted by regulatory risk before the information is public. Our coverage includes reports on investigations, policy and enforcement trends, court hearings, interviews with regulators, as well as access to official source documents.

Advise clients on changes in the regulatory landscape to ensure their business practices adhere.

Never miss and anticipate crucial antitrust enforcement actions and trends that impact your clients anywhere in the world. MLex provides exclusive insights and analysis that gives you the behind-the-scenes information you need to counsel your clients. The information will help you act before events happen, pre-empt clients’ questions and warn them of risks they face or opportunities they have in the market.

Monitor and take action on competition probes affecting your clients’ interests.

MLex’s real-time coverage will allow you to step in immediately if a client, or one of their rivals or business partners, becomes entangled in an antitrust probe. MLex helps you monitor ongoing probes and court litigation that impact your clients’ interests, by signaling whether they require a robust legal defense or have a legitimate claim against a rival or business partner.

Advise clients on creating a company-wide antitrust compliance program.

Make sure your clients’ antitrust compliance strategies are up-to-date and protect them against the latest antitrust enforcement trends. In today’s fast-paced markets, your clients need to continuously adapt their antitrust strategies and be aware of whether competitors aren’t respecting the law.
Don't just take our word for it.
Check out these examples of our Antitrust coverage:

Facebook’s advertising operations under US FTC, DOJ scrutiny
CLICK HERE TO READ MORE >

Google ad-tech antitrust case comes into focus with new Texas AG subpoena
CLICK HERE TO READ MORE >

With just days to serve, JFTC chief urges Japanese companies to use antitrust law to their advantage
CLICK HERE TO READ MORE >

About MLex

Our investigative reporters are on the ground, where you need us the most. We break news on developmental regulation from the earliest stages of industry consultation, right through enforcement and litigation from the world’s most critical centers in North America, Latin America, Europe and Asia. MLex experts provide insight that isn’t available elsewhere – our relationships with local sources allow you access to information before it is public. You can count on MLex for not only news and updates, but also expert analyses that explain how businesses are impacted, portfolios that show the history of a particular issue and source documents from regulatory agencies.