Anticipate and Advise on Data Privacy & Security Regulatory Changes Impacting your Company

Stay informed of global regulatory changes and mitigate risks affecting your business, with MLex real-time coverage and expert analysis. As a one-stop-shop for news, insightful commentary and source documents, you can help ensure your organization is prepared to navigate the constantly evolving data privacy & security laws and regulations across the globe.

MLex breaks exclusive stories on laws and enforcement actions, along with expert insight into how regulatory risk will impact business. With a solid understanding of regulators’ expectations and actions, you can set policies and advise executives and board members on how to remain compliant—and competitive. You can also act quickly when a rival or business partner becomes entangled in a probe.

With MLex, you can gain a deep understanding of regulatory impact and risk, develop sound strategies for ensuring compliance, and monitor probes and litigation to anticipate exposure and opportunity for your company.

Advise on significant regulatory changes.
This area of the law is rapidly changing, but you can keep your employees informed of the risks with comprehensive and reliable coverage of legislative processes, court cases, investigations and enforcement trends—across all jurisdictions the company operates. Support strategy and investment recommendations with cases and trends that illustrate exposure to risk, and opportunities to beat competitors.

Implement strategies and policies that create a culture of compliance.
Develop confidence in how enforcers are applying laws and stay up-to-date on new laws under consideration to develop and train on strategies and policies which are compliant with all relevant regimes worldwide. Mitigate risk in the event of a breach by proving you have policies and procedures in place that adhere to the latest developments.

Monitor and act quickly when there is a breach.
Keep your finger on the pulse of new probes and litigation that may impact your company’s interests—including actions against rivals or partners—and step in quickly to advise whether they are liable and if they have a claim for damages.
Providing an all-encompassing view.

Our coverage includes fines, court hearings, probes, legislation and enforcement trends.

Our investigative reporters are on the ground, where you need us the most. We break news on developmental regulation from the earliest stages of industry consultation, right through enforcement and litigation; from the world’s most critical centers in North America, Latin America, Europe and Asia. MLex experts provide insight that isn’t available elsewhere – our relationships with local sources allow you access to information before it is public. You can count on MLex for not only news and updates, but also expert analyses that explain how businesses are impacted, portfolios that show the history of a particular issue and source documents from regulatory agencies.

About MLex

FOR MORE DETAILS

www.mlexmarketinsight.com | customerservices@mlex.com

UK: +44 800 999 3237 | U.S: +1 800 356 6547 | HK: +852 2965 1424